

CAREERS IN MEDICINE WORKSHOP

“The Art of Understanding Yourself”

On April 27, 2016, The College of Medicine, Office of Student Affairs, offered an interactive workshop for first year medical students to explore their future career paths. Students were asked to complete self-assessments to assess values, interests, and skills. Students participated in an auction and other interactive exercises to learn more about themselves and what resources are available for them to find their best fit for a successful and fulfilling future career.

“The closer the match between your interests, values, personality, and aspirations, and those of physicians in a specialty, the more effective, satisfied and productive you are likely to be.”
