California State University Club Day

Over forty clubs and interest groups were set up at the Multifunction Event Center on Club Day to welcome new students, relax, socialize, and eat. Pharmacy and medical students collaborated to display their clubs' platforms as opportunities to recruit new members into their clubs and interest groups.

Student leaders from both colleges volunteered to barbeque food for everyone who attended. More than 300 students came to support this event whether they were tabling, volunteering with games, cooking, or hosting.

Thank you to the College of Pharmacy's Student Body Council for initiating this successful event. We look forward to College of Medicine's efforts to plan for next year's club day to welcome new colleagues.
